BUILDING RELATIONSHIPS ★ BUILDING COMMUNITY

VOTE APRIL 4
GREGG BACH

FOR MEQUON ALDERMAN 5TH DISTRICT

Voting Matters

Dear Neighbors,

I am enjoying meeting many of you as I visit neighborhoods. I appreciate all the support and positive comments. I have heard that you are tired of partisan politics in local elections. Residents very much want to build relationships so that we all can work together for a better Mequon community. One resident told me she is paying much more attention to local elections because "that's where everything begins." People are tired of the divisiveness and polarization especially in local elections. When elected, I will use my experience of successfully working on complicated challenges in a collaborative and ethical manner to serve as an Alderman for all the residents of District 5.

As I mentioned to many of you, I ran for alderman three years ago and lost by three votes in one of the closest Mequon elections in many years. I was in the home stretch of the campaign and covid hit, shutting everything down. I was reminded in that election that every vote matters. You have many different opportunities to vote.
